

CURRENT OFF-LEASH SITES IN SAN FRANCISCO PARKS

Blue Bone: Parks in the 0-10 acre range are considered smaller parks and playgrounds and can contain off-leash areas that are a minimum of 10,000 square feet. These off-leash areas require a physical barrier, however, landscaping and other measures will be used to screen the effects of these barriers. Alternate surface materials (other than turf), or a combination of turf and more sustainable surfaces, will be explored. Off-leash areas of this size will include double gates in at least two locations for safety precautions.

Green Bone: Parks 10-35 acres in size are considered large parks and squares and may have unfenced off-leash areas. Pathways, landscape or other use separation features can define the off-leash area. Off-leash areas in these parks are a minimum of 30,000 square feet. The majority of these off-leash areas will have turf surfaces. Other surface materials, such as sand, decomposed granite and synthetic turf, may be used to meet optimum maintenance levels. Off-leash use in these areas does not preclude other recreational uses. The public can use them at its discretion.

Orange Bone: Parks over 35 acres in size are considered regional parks and can contain soft barriers such as posts or field markers to delineate approved off-leash areas. Surface materials in these areas will be governed by existing conditions such as turf in meadows, grasslands and pathways. Off-leash use in these areas does not preclude other recreational uses. The public can use them at its discretion.

All off-leash areas in San Francisco will contain adequate signage, waste disposal bags and garbage cans. Wherever possible, the Department will strive to provide other amenities such as lighting, park benches, and drinking fountains.

Exercising Your Dog In San Francisco Parks

A Guide for Your Dog's Best Friend

"Enjoy your neighborhood park today!"

City and County of San Francisco
Recreation and Park Department

WELCOME TO SAN FRANCISCO'S RECREATION AND PARK SYSTEM

The San Francisco Recreation and Park Commission has designated specific park areas throughout the city as off-leash dog areas for you and your pet. Please help provide a pleasant experience for all park users by keeping these areas neat and clean and following our new citywide dog policy. Thank you!

SOME BACKGROUND ON HOW WE GOT HERE

After releasing a draft dog policy in June 2001, the San Francisco Recreation and Park Department reviewed and considered more than 2,700 responses to that document. Nearly 300 staff hours were spent reading, evaluating, refining and incorporating suggestions from the public to come up with a workable solution for everyone.

While some disagreed with the initial policy, we found several areas of common ground. Most citizens, whether dog owners or not, liked the idea of having designated off-leash zones. Most citizens also supported having the City's cleanup and leash laws enforced. However, that said, it was clear that there was some confusion surrounding the draft dog policy. Approved by the Recreation and Park Commission in May 2002, the finalized off-leash policy helps clear up some of that confusion.

WHY WE NEED AN OFF-LEASH DOG POLICY

The City recognizes the strength, character and positive influence the pet-owning community brings to our neighborhood parks. We are continually looking to increase and improve recreational opportunities for these people, as well as for other park users.

The Commission's new policy will create more places for legitimate off-leash use in our parks. Because off-leash use sometimes creates conflict with the rich breadth of other uses our parks host, we are committed to finding solutions that allow all park users to coexist peacefully, and that means defining spaces where dogs may run freely.

YOUR NEIGHBORHOOD PARK

If you or your neighborhood group would like to establish a new off-leash area in your local park, or add or repair amenities in your existing off-leash area, please submit a written request to: San Francisco Recreation & Park Department, Attn: General Manager, 501 Stanyan Street, San Francisco, CA 94117.

The Department will review your request and make a recommendation to the Dog Advisory Committee. The Committee will then begin the public/community process that will include public notification and opportunities for input from park users and neighbors.

IT'S THE LAW: RELEVANT CITY ORDINANCES
